Washington homebrewers!

Come one, come all to the AHA membership rally on July 10th at Pike Brewing Company from 3-7 pm. You'll have your chance to meet the Godfather of homebrewing, Charlie Papazian, Kathryn Porter from the American Homebrewers Association, the brewers of Pike, and many of the organizers of the 2012 National Homebrewers Conference to be held here in Seattle/Bellevue. There will be tours of the brewery, complementary food and beer samples, and a chance to hang out with hundreds of other homebrewers from the area.

The event is free for AHA members (who will also have a chance to renew for a reduced price). If you are not a member, you can join for a reduced price at the door. As a member you'll enjoy a subscription to Zymurgy, discount pricing at the Great American Beer Festival, access to a members-only section of the AHA website, and will support the organization formed to help carry homebrewing efforts in the country forward. Details on membership benefits can be seen here.

With the 2012 National Homebrewers Conference coming to Washington, we want to get everyone together to start the excitement for hosting the country's largest gathering of homebrewers in our own backyard. If you plan to attend the conference you need to be an AHA member so join today and you'll already have a membership ready to go for the conference.

For more information, simply visit the AHA website and RSVP here:
