On Thursday, November 7th, Naked City Brewing will be hosting a Pro-Am Rally featuring many of Washington's recently produced Pro-Am beers. All of these beers were selected in local homebrew competitions and events (such as the Joint Cascade Cup and Puget Sound Pro-Am) and scaled up for commercial production. They represent the close bond between Washington's homebrewing and craft brewing communities.

This is your best chance to try these great homebrew inspired beers in one great setting (even more Washington Pro-Am beers will be available here than at the Great American Beer Festival). The event is open to the public so come on out with your friends and enjoy a great evening.

The celebration will be between 6 and 9 pm and a limited amount of each beer is available so come down early for your best opportunity to try the beers and celebrate Washington's homebrewing and craft brewing community.
